1. The first step in the process of the investigation is the identification of the problem. This involves a thorough review of the available information and a clear definition of the issue at hand. The next step is to gather data, which can be done through various methods such as interviews, surveys, and experiments. Once the data is collected, it is analyzed to identify patterns and trends. This analysis leads to the formulation of hypotheses, which are then tested through further investigation. The final step is to draw conclusions based on the results of the investigation and to communicate these findings to the relevant stakeholders.
